Alban's Plans for Burning Mortgage

Alban's Episcopal Church, Washington and Curtis Streets, in Albany, will celebrate a milestone in its history tonight, when members of the church, specially invited guests and friends will assemble at 8:45 p.m. for the burning of a mortgage during dinner.

The mortgage was for the purchase of a new parish house, which was entered into some seven years ago. It was designed to be paid off in ten years, but has been paid off three years before the original date. Bishop Henry H. Yool will be main speaker at the ceremony and will burn the mortgage.

The church began its new era with a new pastor, Frank G. Sibilia, who was given by Frank G. Sibilia, vice president of the church, the name of the church. Sibilia does not accept the mortgage in his hands but in the church fund. The mortgage was spread, and the practice of giving became a big part of the burning of church mortgages. Sibilia is chairman of the St. Alban's Building Fund Committee, and it is one of his original ideas that the mortgage has been paid off in advance. The parish house was built at a cost of approximately $50,000 including the lot, and is now said to be worth upwards of $100,000.

The committee in charge of the ceremony includes: The Rev. John H. Yool, pastor; Frank G. Sibilia, vice pastor; George Moss, treasurer; Frank G. Sibilia, and Mrs. L. G. Sibilia. Arrangements will be made for the ceremony.

Paul Miranda, left, of the Albany Fire Department, is shown selling tickets for the Albany Police and Fire Civil Service Dance, to be held April 23, in the Albany Veterans Memorial Building, to Mayor Lewis M. Howell of Albany, while Policewoman Connie T. Yool, right center, is turning over a bunch of tickets to Councilman and Police Commissioner William T. Donahue. Proceeds from the dance will go to the police and fire widows and orphans fund of Albany.

Albany to Stage Spring Clean-up Week April 25-29

With the announcement of "Spring Clean-up Week" in Albany to be held between April 25 and April 29, Fire Chief Fred Talmadge made the following announcement today:

"Most folks don't think of the many useless things they've got stored away around the house as rubbish—that's what it is and it's a major fire hazard."

He explained that rubbish itself does not cause fire, except in some cases of spontaneous ignition, but it is the kind of fuel that fire loves and all it needs is a stray spark to start it off.

There are many different kinds of household rubbish, but these fast-burning items are among the most dangerous: old linens, cast-off clothing, mattresses, old furniture, curtains, draperies, lampshades, magazines, papers, linoleum and rags.

The Chief advised everyone to check for quick-burning rubbish in closets, attics and basements—these are the likeliest places for home fires to start, according to the records of the National Fire Protection Association.

"Cooperation of the citizens with their street, health and fire department will greatly assist in making this drive a success in regard to cleanliness, health and protection of life and property within the city of Albany," Talmadge adds.

CHOICE FOR NEW MAYOR UNCERTAIN

Choice of one of its members to serve the City of Albany as its mayor probably will be on the agenda next Monday night when the Council meets in regular session at the City Hall, on Solano Ave., between San Pablo and Adams, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Council usually votes 4 to 1 on controversial issues, with Mrs. Zahn in the traditional minority. Mayor Howell, Councilman Jerome Blank have each served two consecutive terms as mayor, but both are eligible. Mayor Howell's term on the Council has another 3 years to run, as has Mrs. Zahn's. Councilmen Jerome Blank, Edward Combs and William Donahue have terms expiring next April.

Action of the Council at last Monday's meeting included:

A decision to hold over the problem of bus stops at San Pablo and Solano until next Monday, at which time it is due to be taken up with a view to a final settlement.

Authorization of the payment of $180 as Albany's share in support of the traffic safety school to which Albany-Berkeley traffic offenders may be sent after court appearances.

Announcement by Councilman Jerome Blank of the appointment of George Vila, building contractor of 836 Polk St., Albany, to the Planning Commission. Vila will replace Charles Pinkham, recently named to the School Board.

Authorized the sending of a letter to the League of California Cities opposing Assembly Bill No. 478 which would guarantee transit companies a specified net return.

Referred to City Engineer Carter a report from the Planning and Zoning Commission regarding proposed rezoning of property at 621 Talbot Ave., and asked for a complete report.

Mayor Howell was authorized to proclaim the week of May 22 United Cerebral Palsy Week in Albany.

Police Sergeants Arthur Smith and Kenneth Nickerson were granted permission to attend a special conference of law enforcement officers in Los Angeles, April 27-29.

Church to Offer Prize-Winning Drama Sunday

Stephen Vincent Benet's prize-winning play, "The Devil and Daniel Webster" will be presented Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the Albany Community Methodist Church, by a professional Hollywood cast of actors known as "The Bishop's Company." This company has been producing plays for the past two years in California churches, and includes such wellknown personalities as Hal Bokar, Phyllis Beardsley, Preston Field, Elizabeth Wolfe, Emma Caldwell and James Wheaton.

"The Bishop's Company" is a new adventure with drama in the church which recently has been written up in such national magazines as Newsweek, Quick, Fortnight and The Christian Herald. Originally organized by Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles, the group has played in cities all over the West Coast.

The local presentation will be open to the public on a free will offering basis. "The Devil and Daniel Webster" is one of six plays carefully selected for the repertoire of the company. The play presents the situation of Webster, played by Hal Bokar, cornered by the devil, in an attempt to save a man's soul. Webster avoids a losing device based on facts and figures by appealing to the jury in making them sense the dignity as well as the weakness of man. It is a stirring drama with moments of humor, action and pathos.

Albany Bowl To Stage Team Championships

Celebrating its sixth year in business the Albany Bowl has organized a one-day team championship bowling tournament, featuring more than $800 in added money, prizes and awards, and which will see 182 teams participating, setting what is believed to be an all-time record in this area for teams bowling in one day, in one house.

Any team, men's, women's, or mixed, which bowls in the Albany Bowl is eligible to enter. Squads start at 9 a. m. on Saturday, April 30, and run across the 20 lanes at two and one-half hour intervals, until the last squad which is scheduled to start at midnight.

The winning team not only gets a huge sponsor trophy, but each team member receives a Gruen wrist watch as well. Second place team members receive electric clock trophies, and third place team members also receive individual trophies. The cash prize fund goes down 20 places, with all the added money awards as extra features.

As more than 400 teams bowl at Albany Bowl regularly, the race is on for reservations, as the first 182 to sign up get the available spots. The tournament is to be run with men receiving two-thirds of the two hundred handicap and the women receiving 80 per cent of the difference between their handicap and two hundred. Over 70 teams signed up the first day entries were open. There are $26 squad prizes for each of the seven squads.

The soul of good expression is an unexpectedness, which still, keeps to the mark of meaning, and does not betray truth.—John Galsworthy.

Albany Workers Raise $1838 in Red Cross Drive

Complete returns of the Red Cross Drive for members and funds shows the sum of $1838 donated by residents of Albany to date. Albany's goal was $1700.

Mrs. Eugene Blank, chairman of the drive, again expressed her thanks to the people of the community for responding so generously, and to the workers who had had charge of the drive.

She added that a complete roster of workers had not been available at the time the list was published, and wished to add the following names of people in Albany who had been active in the drive:

Precinct Chairman—Mrs. L. J. Hogan, Mrs. H. C. Healy, Mrs. Sisto Masero.

Solicitors—Mrs. V. Crosetti, Mrs. Frank Ellsworth, Mrs. Geo. Martinez, Mrs. L. McGonegal, Mrs. R. B. Patterson, Mrs. Ted Phillips, Mrs. R. Lane, Mrs. T. S. Leahy, Mrs. A. R. Spearin, Mrs. F. Hill, Mrs. Frank Lampson, Mrs. Thelma Plain, Mrs. Diane Kelly, Mrs. Elsie Robins.

Two-Thirds of Autos Equipped With Radio Sets

That old song, "Highways Are Happy Ways," is fast becoming the theme song of radio manufacturers and radio station program directors, and for good reason. Over a third of the annual radio set production in the United States is being absorbed by automobiles, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Two-thirds of the motor vehicles on the highways today are equipped with radios, compared with only a third in 1941.

As a result, many radio stations are slanting an increasing portion of their programs toward the motorist. Reports on road conditions, descriptions of tours, driving tips, safety warnings and suggestions on care of the car are features that are designed for people driving to and from work and taking business or pleasure trips.

Radio stations know that at certain hours of the morning and evening, people riding in cars represent a large percentage of their listening audiences.

If you don't say anything, you won't be called on to repeat it. — Calvin Coolidge.

Popular Films Now Available

Free annotated programs listing spring film revivals through June at the Berkeley Cinema Guild are now available at the Guild's own playhouse, Telegraphs at Haste, Berkeley, or by calling ASH 3-2038.

The Guild, a non-commercial, 16 mm. film society, celebrates its fourth year this month, and begins its second year of operation in its own intimate theatre near Sather Gate in Berkeley.

Showing of quality revival films are nightly at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., with special children's matinees on Saturdays and Sundays.

Allow Plenty of Stopping Room

Most rear-end collisions avoided if the driver would enough behind the car ahead, minds the California State Automobile Association. Here's a rule to remember: At least one length for every ten miles an hour—20 miles an hour car-lengths; 40 miles an hour car-lengths; 60 miles an hour car-lengths.

Prizes Awarded in Easter Parade By Albany Solano Ave. Merchants

Albany's Easter Fungram parade was a huge success! Over 100 of Albany's youngsters participated in their most colorful costumes. Pets in costume participated in the parade as well as every known type of cart—decorated to the hub caps.

In addition to the presentation of 67 prizes, all participants were served with ice cream after the parade, at Cornell School. All prizes were donated by Albany Solano Avenue Merchants.

Winners in the Small Children's group were: First Prize—David and Sharon Hansen. Second prize, Catherine Erloch; third prize, Cynthia and Claudie Armstrong; George and Jim Bahich took fourth prize in this group.

Winners in the 7 to 10 year age group were: First prize, Jane Keller and Janet Planchard; second prize, Donna Anderson; third prize, Stephen Brown.

Winners in the 11 year and over group were: Steffani and Jackie Reckas; first prize, Rickie Booth and Michael Branning, second prize; Rickie Booth and Michael Branning, second prize; Joey McKeown, third prize.

Grand sweepstakes winners were David and Sharon Hansen, whose entry was a beautifully decorated locomotive.

Because of the ingenuity and general excellence of so many of the entrants, it was a very difficult task for the judges to make their selections. Awards were given to many children whose names cannot

Cinderella Shoes Made Of Glass Fibre

It's a good thing that Cinderella lived "once upon a time," because her glass slipper wouldn't get her much attention now. In fact, it wouldn't even rate a footnote in the description of the ball. Today anyone can have glass shoes—prettier and more practical than Cinderella's ever were.

The new shoes are woven or braided of twisted glass fibers, then coated with vinyl plastic. They look like spun silk, and come in beautiful shades of pink, blue, yellow, coffee or charcoal, to match or contrast with your wardrobe. They're wonderful for summer wear, because they're light, flexible, and coolly comfortable, and they're a natural for traveling—when they get dusty you just wipe them with a cloth or tissue and they sparkle again.

Petroleum and its products have helped bring about this modern Cinderella's slipper. During weaving the glass fiber filaments are treated with petroleum-derived oils and starch to protect them from abrasion. The vinyl plastic coating is made of chemicals from oil and natural gas.

Attractive shoes are a basic item in a stylish wardrobe and oil helps you to put your best foot forward whether you are shod in casual flats for sportswear or glamorous-heeled sandals for dancing. Petroleum goes into the oils used for tanning leather and into the resins and wetting agents used in its processing. The waxes and polishing that keep your shoes smart and new looking contain oil products, too.

We don't have to envy Cinderella, her Fair Godmother. We have thousands of fairy godmothers—the people of the fashion and oil industries who cooperate to bring us the most up to date fashions at reasonable prices—and their magic output doesn't vanish at midnight.

be listed due to the number involved.

Judges for the parade were: Mayor Louis M. Howell, Mrs. Peter Perrin of Tri-City Electric, and Bernice Boyd of Security Savings and Loan, who all deserve a hand for a most difficult task of selecting award winners.

Stan Young, president of the Albany Solano Avenue Merchants Association wishes to extend his thanks to all those who helped make the parade a success. Chairman Cecil Wentz of the Bank of America deserves a great deal of credit for handling the entire program. He was assisted in selection of prizes by Kay Fritz of Bo-Kay Gift Shop, and Marge Bishop of Berkeley Business Service.

The association wishes to thank Fire Chief Fred Pimental, Emmett Devine of Albany Recreation Department, Police Chief Ralph Jensen, assisted by Art Smith and Ken Nickerson, for their help and co-operation; also to East Bay Chevrolet for the use of the judge's car.

There was a big turnout for the Albany Solano Avenue Merchants Association Easter Fungram Parade, held the Thursday before Easter. Participants competed for prizes awarded for the best miniature floats, best decorated trikes, bikes, scooters, wagons and doll buggies; best costumed pets and kiddies, and the best designed hats. Shown, left to right, are: Pat Latavala, Cecil Wentz, chairman; Stan Young, president of the Albany Solano Avenue Merchants Association; Cathy Latavala and Jane Roberts. Gazette Photo

It is Much Safer To Stay in Line

It may take you 30 seconds or even a minute longer to get where you're going by staying in line and being patient, but it's worth it, says the California State Automobile Association. Hurrying in traffic is not good driving; it only fouls up the traffic pattern and causes congestion.

CAR FINANCING

Freeze Casseroles
For Future Use

Get the most out of the time you put into preparing casserole dishes. The next time one is on the menu, make enough for several meals and freeze these planned left-overs for future enjoyment. Cooked food stays nutritious and tasty in the freezer when properly packaged in moisture-proof containers such as new Vapocans.

Prepare your favorite casserole and cool quickly in a bowl of ice cubes. Spoon it into the square, wax-board containers and seal the plastic lid with a single press-on motion. Figure on about two servings per pint. Place the containers in the freezer immediately. Cooked dishes keep in the freezer up to one month. These containers come in pint, pint-and-a-half and quart sizes.

Four to 6 Most Dangerous Hours For Auto Drivers

Do you drive during the time between 4 and 6 p.m.? If so, there are three special reasons why you should be extra alert in this period, according to the California State Automobile Association.

First, traffic is heavier—15 per cent of all the vehicles that pass over a road in the whole day are moving during those two hours. Second, people are generally tired after working all day, not as alert as usual, more likely to react wrongly.

Most of all, people are impatient, hurrying to get home, likely to take chances. Always drive with extra care between 4 and 6 p.m.

FREEWAY PASSING

When you're driving on a four-lane highway and want to pass a car ahead, be sure the passing lane is clear before you pull out, warns the California State Automobile Association. There may be a car in the blind spot at your left rear—the spot you can't see in your rear-view mirror.

June Graduates May Arrange Navy Enlistments Now

The Oakland Navy Recruiting office announced today that high school seniors graduating in June of this year desiring to enlist in the Navy may submit their applications at the present time and their enlistments will be held in abeyance until after graduation.

High school graduates who qualify under current regulations may be enlisted in the high school program to attend a Navy trade school of their choice. The trade schools available are electronics, aviation, medical, mechanical and clerical. Selection for these schools will be on a competitive basis, with a very limited quota of six men for June and seven men for July, groups of two or three buddies enlisting in the Navy under this program will attend recruit training and return home on ten days recruit leave together.

TRAFFIC MANNERS

Sounding your horn of your car at the slightest pretext is a sign of nervousness and labels you as a bad driver—at least as far as manners are concerned, says the California State Automobile Association.

Check your driving habits—if you're a horn-honker, better relax and take your turn in traffic.

Making That Left-hand Turn In Busy Traffic

Engineers are constantly making improvements in the channeling of traffic along our streets and ways, but in spite of all these efforts there are still many places where the left-hand turn is a source of disconcert and danger.

Making a left-hand turn at an intersection, points out the National Automobile Club, is a maneuver that calls for skill and caution. There are signals in operation that can sometimes make your turn cutting across in front of the coming cars. This practice, however, is both discourteous and dangerous and it is far better to wait until the cars going through the intersection have passed. When there are no openings, make one by moving gradually in the direction you want to go, thereby letting other drivers see you intend.

In making a left-hand turn, be courteous, be considerate, and will keep yourself safe.

There were four passengers in the United States in 1895, according to the National Automobile Club.

Million High School Students Complete Driver Education Courses

Five million students in high schools have completed driver education courses in the past 18 years, reports the State Automobile Association. California students comprise 750,000 of this total. Driver education is probably the fastest growing program in high schools, according to a survey made by the American Automobile Association which shows that of the 5,298,600 students who completed a driver education course since 1936, 2,177,600 had both classroom work and behind-the-wheel training. The latter had classroom study

The three-quarter million California students who have completed courses in driver education, approximately 200,000 have also had behind-the-wheel driver instruction. The classroom driver education is required under a state law passed by the legislature in 1947.

Among the long those students who have both types of training, however, those who have had classroom work, the CSAA estimates that 7,000 high schools—more than one-quarter of the United States—offer complete driver education courses now, and another 2,000 offer classroom courses only. The great majority of the schools now offer a complete course with behind-the-wheel training.

There is no question but that the slang, hackneyed phrases, clichés worn smooth make for a lack of interest, and if constant repetition of the sense of discrimination is not to be lost, James Truslow Adams.

Norman R. Sutherland, left, vice-president and general manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, personally set the company's three-millionth customer meter for service to Mr. and Mrs. Axtel Andersen and their daughter Carol Ann, four, as the surprised family moved into their new home in Daly City. With new connections to the company's lines throughout Northern and Central California running at a rate of more than 15,000 a month, PGE officials had been watching for the location as the three millionth meter. After pinning an orchid corsage on Mrs. Andersen, Sutherland presented the family with a gleaming dishwasher as a mark of the importance of the event in the company's more than a century of growth. A copper commemorative plaque was set into the meter box.

Albany Soldier
At Camp Lewis

PFC Eddie J. Thibadeaux, Jr., son of Mrs. Pearl B. Green, 1124 Ninth St., Albany, is among 26,000 soldiers slated to participate in Exercise Apple Jack during May at the Yakima Firing Center near Fort Lewis, Wash.

Apple Jack will test the efficiency of infantry and support units in mountainous and desert terrain. The simulated use of atomic weapons will be one of the conditions of the exercise.

What to Do
When Stalled
On Highway

If your car should happen to get stalled out on the highway at night, you're in a dangerous situation and you should always be prepared to handle such a situation.

The important thing, according to the National Automobile Club, is to make sure that both you and your car are well lighted and will be easily sighted.

For your self, always carry some article of clothing that is made of white or reflectorized material so that it will show up clearly in the lights of oncoming cars.

For your car, turn on the dome and dim lights and, if it is equipped with directional signals, turn on the "right turn" signal and let it flash continually.

It is a wise idea to carry flares or easily seen reflector signs in your car so that when the stalling occurs you can place a flare or reflector about 100 feet to the rear of your car, another 100 feet to the rear, and another 100 feet ahead.

Always be sure, of course, to get your stalled car well off the highway as soon as possible.

By observing these little precautions you will avoid turning a temporary inconvenience into a sudden disaster.

PENNY WISE,
POUND FOOLISH

Regular tune-ups are important if you expect economical operation and long life from your car's engine, says the California State Automobile Association. But remember, a partial tune-up done without the benefit of precision instruments defeats the purpose of this important service procedure. When you have yours tuned up, pick a shop that is equipped to do the job and one that does it right.

Eighty-one per cent of the families living on farms in the United States own automobiles, according to the National Automobile Club.

Society to Hold

Improve
In Autos Due to Women's Ideas

Since about one-third of the automobile drivers in the United States today are women and women seem to be taking an ever greater interest in the buying of the family car, automobile manufacturers are paying more and more attention to what the distaff side of the market has to say and some have even gone so far as to form national panels of outstanding women to make suggestions as to what the coming models should contain.

This paying attention to the distaff side of the market, however, is nothing too new. From the beginning, women have been having something of a say and the original glove compartment, assist straps, inside lighting, carpeting on the floor, and more ample luggage space all found their way into the automobile pretty much at the suggestion of women.

Women, moreover, have been insistent in their demand for an automobile that was easier to handle and of recent years this demand has led manufacturers to develop cars that are lighter, lower slung, and leaner looking, cars that have many power assists to make steering, braking, adjusting of seats and raising and lowering of windows easier for the driver. Automatic transmissions have been brought in to eliminate the shifting of gears and the working of the clutch pedal.

In many a way, points out the National Automobile Club, you will find the fine influence of women at work. It is largely they who have been responsible for the introduction of larger back-up lights, wider doorways for more graceful entry and exit, more adjustable sun-visors and mirrors on the back of these visors, glove drawers, "picture windows" for better vision, the grouping of instruments on the dashboards for easier reach, and linen for the covering of seats.

To help mother with the children, the manufacturers have installed safety locks, padding on the dashboard, electrical outlets for bottle warmers and plastic materials from which the prints of small hands and feet can be more easily cleaned.

Swiss Democracy in Action

During early spring, in some parts of Switzerland, all male citizens of voting age assemble for a "Landsgemeinde," or open-air parliament session. They meet in the main square of the town to elect government officials and to pass new laws. These bearded citizens of Sarnen wear the colorful medieval costumes of the "Landsgemeinde" honor guard and carry old-style battle-horns over their shoulders. Switzerland is a land of many unique and time-honored traditions. For more facts about Switzerland, write Swiss National Travel Office, Dept. F, 10 West 45th Street, N. Y.

The Chevrolet Biscayne, experimental four-seater featured in the 1955 GM Motordrama, introduces a number of features that might well give showgoers a look into the design of the car of the future. Among these novelties are the extension of the windshield into the roof, hood-mounted head-lamps, pivoting front seats, absence of center pillars at the sides of the plastic body and a sculptured effect on the side that substitutes for the customary chrome trim. The dream car is 52.5 inches high—eight inches lower than a standard Chevrolet—and is driven by a 215-horsepower version of the division's new "Turbo-Fire V8" engine. Overall length is 185.7 inches.

Now I lay me down to sleep...

THE hair so like young corn silk draws appealingly into the little pony tail. Lashes droop demurely on eyes in which, all day, small lightning fires of mischief flared and flashed. A chirrupy little-girl treble quavers.

"God bless Mommy... God bless Daddy..."

You listen. In this moment you understand truly why you were put upon this earth. And as you hear your little girl at her prayers what wouldn't you do to keep her always warm and confident and secure?

Give love? Of course—first and always!

But, because you've grown up in a tough world, you have to give material protection, too. And one of the finest forms of material protection is a steadily growing of U. S. Series E Savings Bonds!

Bonds pay good interest—3% compounded when held maturity. They'll earn for as long as 19 years and 8 months paying you 80% more than you invested!

Bonds offer the world's easiest and surest way to save while you invest in them through the Payroll Savings Plan. This Plan you can pick any amount you wish (as little as a couple of dollars a week) and have your company's office save it out of each check. This is invested in Bonds which are turned over to you. And you'll find you can successfully no matter how many times you may have before and failed.

You can also invest in Bonds automatically where you buy your little girl, or your little boy, needs all the protection you can give. Build it for them, with U. S. Savings Bonds.

CAKE 'N' CANDY COMBO

A NEW AND PRACTICAL REFRESHMENT for card parties is a batch of Half-and-Half Brownies. Unsweetened chocolate and semi-sweet chocolate chips give a new twist, that the girls will enjoy, to these perennial favorites. Easy to make, too. And you'll find a one-shot confection like this better suited to a planned series of get-togethers than a fancy, frosted cake and a variety of candies. No bustling around to serve elaborate food while the game's still "on." In a minute everyone can be happily settled with a cup of delicious hot coffee and one—or two—of your crunchy, chocolaty-rich, new style Brownies.

HALF AND HALF BROWNIES

1 package Baker's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips
2 cups sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup broken walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Melt shortening, unsweetened chocolate and 1/2 package of the chocolate chips over hot water. Add sugar gradually to eggs, beating thoroughly. Add chocolate mixture and blend. Add flour and mix well; then add nuts and vanilla. Spread batter in greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Sprinkle remaining 1/2 package of the chocolate chips over top of batter. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes, or until done. Cool in pan; then cut into squares or rectangles. Makes about 20 brownies. (ANS)

Food Sense — Not Nonsense

Diets To Grow On, Measure Up

An old time custom — measuring up — is still a big event for most families. To the bicycle set, adding three inches becomes a race; to mother and father, "measuring up" is a means for scoring eating habits.

Guidance in the matter of foods to "grow on" is important. The science of nutrition has made it possible to develop a guide for parents — some of each of the basic seven food groups should be eaten daily. The groups are: meats, poultry, fish and eggs; dairy products; vitamin C-rich foods; leafy green vegetables; assorted vegetables and fruits; butter or margarine; enriched or whole wheat bread and cereals.

New information on foods to "grow on" is a recent report from the Medical Research Council of Great Britain. Two internationally famous nutritionists, Dr. E. M. Widdowson and Dr. R. A. McCance, studied the improvement of the health of about 200 German orphans on selected diets. These 5 to 15-year old orphans, retarded in growth, because of war-time food shortages, were given the best diets available in post war Germany. These of necessity were low in milk products, eggs and many of the protective foods. The diets were supplemented with vitamins A, C and D and included large amounts of bread, about one and one-half pounds a day. The bread, similar to the commercial bread in this country, was counted on to provide the major share of the nutrients.

What happened? Throughout the year the children made excellent height and weight gains — catching up with their American cousins. By all measures for judging nutritional improvement, (more accurate than only growth in inches), the children's development demonstrated the adequacy of the diets. The study showed that either enriched or whole wheat bread in large amounts is an excellent food for growing youngsters.

The average American child is more fortunate in the matter of food than the German orphan. A wide selection of foods is available to most families. There is not a need of dependence on any one food for the major portion of nutrients and calories. This study offers reassurance that bread, a favorite with children, makes a very real contribution to their growth and development.

A Charming Work Saver

ANY young mother would be delighted with this step-saving 3 bedroom home on lovely Elm Street. Six sun-bathed rooms, lots of room for the growing family. Lovely patio with out-door lights so you can have fun eating outdoors on the comfortable summer evenings coming soon. We'll be glad to give you a deluxe tour. Evenings, Howard Evans.

Plus all this it's furnished nicely and the owners are only asking $10,750 including the furnishings. Evenings Mrs. Dawson.

All the Elegance for Serene Living

YOU'LL remember this style if you have seen it on the corner of Rincon Road and The Arlington. Style in California Ranch architecture with deep red brick facing, lowered glass surrounds the lovely secluded patio, an ideal place for entertaining. Off the entrance hall is a richly decorated living room with wall-to-wall carpeting and luscious draw-drapes. Plus the three spacious bedrooms and tile bath on the main floor there is another bedroom and tile bath and an enormous rumpus room on the lower level. Owner has retired and is living in San Jose. Evenings, Mrs. Dawson.
